PADUCAH RETAINS OFFICIAL PLACE IN FEDERATION

Mrs. James A. Rudy Elected Third Vice President, Succeding Mrs. Post.

Mrs. Riker Re-elected President of State Organization.

BUSINESS OF THE SECOND DAY

President—Mrs. Letcher Riker Harrodsburg.
First vice-president—Miss Lucella Boyd, Covington.
Second vice-president—Mrs. James A. Mitchell, Bowling Green.
Third vice-president—Mrs. James A. Rudy, Paducah.
Fourth vice-president—Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison, Lexington.
Recording secretary—Miss Lillian Lindsey, Frankfort.
Corresponding secretary—Miss Halden Hardin, Harrodsburg.
Treasurer—Mrs. H. C. Muir, Nicholasville.
Federation secretary—Mrs. C. P. Weaver, Louisville.
Auditor—Mrs. Frank Lowry, Paris.

Spirited balloting resulted in the election of officers of the Kentucky State Federation of Women's clubs, as shown above, in this morning's session. Paducah retains one state officer, and in the races for first vice-president and second vice-president, Mrs. Rudy ran strong. Mrs. Edmund Post declined to stand for re-election to the third vice-presidency, which she could have received, because her plans for next year will carry her out of the state frequently. The federation gave her a rising vote for her efficient work in bringing five clubs into the federation.

Mrs. Letcher Riker was re-elected by a majority of 68 out of 74 votes cast. Mrs. James A. Mitchell, of Bowling Green, receiving 8 votes and Miss Lucella Boyd, of Covington, 1 vote. For first vice president Miss Lucella Boyd, Covington, 46 votes; Mrs. James A. Rudy, Paducah, 30 votes; and Mrs. James A. Mitchell, 20 votes. For second vice president, Mrs. James A. Mitchell, Bowling Green, 46 votes; Mrs. James A. Rudy, 21, and Mrs. Laura Clay, Lexington, 1 vote. For third vice president, Mrs. James A. Rudy, 69 votes, and Mrs. Palmer, 1 vote. For fourth vice president, Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison, 68 votes, and Mrs. Laura Clay, Lexington, 2 votes. For recording secretary, Miss Lillian Lindsey, 60 votes; Miss Halden Hardin, Harrodsburg, 4, and Mrs. Banks, Richmond, 1 vote. Corresponding secretary's race, Miss Halden Hardin 55 votes, Mrs. C. P. Weaver, Louisville, 6 votes. Treasurer's race, Mrs. H. C. Muir, Nicholasville, 46 votes, Mrs. C. P. Weaver, Louisville, 5, and Mrs. Sims 4 votes. Federation secretary, Mrs. C. P. Weaver, Louisville, 44 votes, Mrs. Frank Lowry, Paris, 10 votes. Auditor, first ballot, Mrs. Frank Lowry, Paris, 24; Mrs. L. C. Willis, Shelbyville, 20 votes; second ballot, Mrs. Lowry 25 votes, Mrs. Willis 10 votes.

Mrs. Desha Brockbridge, of Lexington, was elected delegate from the Kentucky federation to the general federation, in Boston, June 22, and Miss Lilla Breed, Louisville, was elected alternate.

Little could be learned about the probable next place of meeting, though it is known that Harrodsburg, Owensboro and Louisville are in the race. This will be decided either in the council meeting this afternoon after the business session, or in the executive board meeting Friday morning. As Mrs. Riker, the president, and Miss Hardin, the secretary, are from Harrodsburg, a strong effort is being put forth to have the federation there next year.

With the business session this afternoon, the federation proper will come to an end. Prof. C. C. Claxton of the University of Tennessee, will lecture at the Casino, Wallace park tonight on the rights of children and woman's opportunity, which will be the last meeting which the delegates will attend. This afternoon the guests will be taken over the city by the Automobile club, winding up at Mayor and Mrs. James P. Smith's summer home, "Bide A'wee," for a reception, the last social event of the meeting.

All Pleased.

Delegates will begin to leave tonight though most of them will leave Friday morning at 11:20 o'clock. "Everything has been lovely but the weather," was the exclamation.

Allies Will Stand Together When Fight Comes Off in Convention at Chicago---Hitchcock is On Ground

Talk About Candidate For Vice President is Interesting Subject at This Time—National Committeemen Arrive.

Chicago, June 4.—Practically all the Republican national committeemen are here for the contests, which begin tomorrow. Anti-Taft candidates base their hopes on the work of the committee. If the contested Taft delegates are thrown out it gives the field a good chance. Reports revived of Roosevelt's renomination are laid to anti-administration men as means to weaken Taft. Hitchcock, Taft's manager, today claimed 517 votes. Vice-presidential talk is getting vigorous. Secretary Cortelyou, Hammond, Governor Deneen, of Illinois, and Chester I. Long, of Kansas, are the latest mentioned.

There is one important difference between the table compiled by the allies and that made up by the Tafters. It is that the allies left out of consideration altogether the 229 votes for which there are contests, while Mr. Hitchcock put all those in where one set of contestants was instructed for Taft.

The allies gave plentiful evidence that they are allies. In Pittsburgh, where "Uncle Joe" Cannon foregathered with Senator Hemenway and Representative Landis of the Fairbanks camp, and Senator Knox's manager, Representative James Francis Burke, the alliance was frankly admitted. And they got much satisfaction out of the conference because they got assurances at last that Senator Knox was one of the allies.

FIFTY HOGSHEADS SOLD

Fifty hogsheads of leaf tobacco were sold at the association salesroom today at prices ranging from 10 to 12 cents. Several prominent brokers are expected to visit the market tomorrow or next day and it is expected the sales this week will be up to the average.

FEEDING CHILDREN

New York, June 4.—The Children's Relief society is receiving thousands of dollars contributions as the result of the disclosure that hundreds of pupils among east side school children were improperly fed. They plan soup kitchens and free lunch stands, where all children meet and get one square meal daily.

NEW EMERGENCY ISSUE WILL NEVER BE INVOKED, BECAUSE OF VITAL OMISSION

Treasury Officials Find That Clearing House Certificates, Legal and Untaxed, Are Cheapest For Banks.

Washington, June 4.—Treasury officials have found a defect in the new currency law, making the most important feature inoperative. They insist that the five hundred million for emergency will never be issued. The law fails to make clearing house certificates illegal or to tax them. The emergency currency is heavily taxed to force its retirement as soon as the emergency is over. Officials fear banks will resort to clearing house certificates, which are untaxed, in times of panic, instead of paying heavily for emergency bills.

LOST IN TYPHOON

London, June 4.—Dispatches from Australia report the loss of forty boats in a typhoon. Two hundred and seventy persons are reported drowned.

Small Hemp Crop.

Lexington, Ky., June 4.—W. J. Loughridge, president of the American Hemp company, announced that there would only be a half crop of hemp this year. He said that the old crop had been sold and that $6 a hundred was the best price possible this year.

SCHOOL FLAGS.
Sergeant C. A. Blake, of the Paducah recruiting station, said that the flags for the public schools can be bought for much less than $20 apiece. A regulation flag like the one that floats over the custom house, 8 feet by 4 feet 2 inches, cost the United States $2.00. These flags are made of the best material and are storm proof. Sergeant Blake would be glad to help the school board in buying the flags.

JOHNSON CLAIMS BRYAN CAN'T WIN ON FIRST BALLOT

Chicago, June 4.—Chicago headquarters of Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, issued a statement that the refusal of Maryland and Louisiana conventions to endorse Bryan will prevent the Nebraskan's nomination on first ballot. They declare Johnson sentiment is growing while Bryan sentiment is receding.

BOYS TOMAHAWK WALLS OF VACANT RESIDENCE.

Wednesday afternoon five small boys about five years old entered a vacant residence of Mrs. Fannie Alward, of Harrison street, and with hatchets ruined some of the plastering in four rooms, when one suggested they have a battle with the walls of the rooms for the enemy. Detective T. J. Moore was put to work on the job, as it was thought some hobos were guilty, but after a search the detective could place the guilt on no one but the lads. No prosecutions will follow.

DILATORY LOVER CARVED BY NEGLECTED FEMALE.

Because she alleged that Tom Jones colored, had promised to marry her and he was so slow about having the ceremony performed, Kate Hughes, alias Minnie Wilkerson, colored, nearly cut off her lover's left leg last night. Jones was sitting on his porch on Ninth street between Kentucky avenue and Washington street, when Minnie entered and with a knife began carving on him. After the cutting the woman started off on a run, but Patrolmen Wood and Prince were on her trail, and at Twelfth and Harrison streets they arrested her. Jones was unable to be in court this morning, and the case was continued.

Col. J. R. Lemon, of Mayfield, is in the city today.

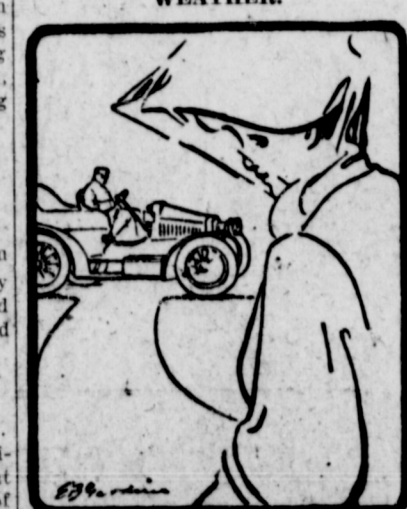

POSSE AFTER ROBBERS

Tulsa, June 4.—A posse is pursuing three robbers who looted the bank of Fairland and getting $10,000. Robbers entered the town on horseback and rode away after rifling the vaults.

Child Killed By Ball.

Covington, Ky., June 4.—George Gleason, one year old, died from being hit on the cheek with a batted ball. He is the sixth victim in this neighborhood of the baseball season thus far.

OLLIE JAMES IN PADUCAH TODAY FIXING FENCES

Big First District Congressman Has No Information to Divulge.

Interest in County Convention Here Saturday.

THOSE SEEKING FOR HONORS

Congressman Ollie M. James arrived in the city this morning from Marion, presumably to feel the local Democratic pulse. Mr. James said all elements are agreed on the plan of sending a solid instructed delegation from Kentucky to Denver, for William J. Bryan, and both seem confident that the convention in Lexington will follow their wishes.

Mr. James professed not to know who will be chairman of the state convention, and could not verify the report that Judge Robbins, of Mayfield, would preside. He said the next president would be a Democrat and that Democrat will be W. J. Bryan. Mr. James will leave this afternoon.

McCracken county will hold a convention Saturday to elect delegates to the Lexington convention. This county is entitled to 14 delegates.

The Convention.
Interest in the Democratic convention and committee meetings Saturday is increasing among members of the party and the indications are that there will be a good crowd at the court house when the chairman calls the convention to order.

There will be no contest for instructions to the state convention, as a great majority of Democrats are for Bryan, and all the interest in the First district centers around the party organization and the selection of delegates to the national convention at Denver.

Ollie James will be backed for one of the delegates from the state at large, while Senator Conn Linn and Gus Thomas, of Mayfield, are tipped as delegates from the district.

Three candidates are out for elector: J. S. Ross, of McCracken; John M. Moore, of Ballard, and Ward Headley, of Caldwell.

For state central committeeman, C. W. Emery, of Paducah, and Ed Crossland, of Mayfield, are contestants, and Senator N. W. Utley, of Lyon, and Henry Lawrence, of Trigg, each want to be the member of the executive committee from the First district.

Although there is violent opposition among many of the candidates for county office to the primary being called for this fall, it is practically conceded that the primary will be held on the regular election day, or one year in advance of the election when the offices will be filled. It is believed there is a scheme in this to take snap judgment on aspirants, who have not been laying their plans to capture the nominations long in advance, and it is feared that candidates exposed to public scrutiny many months in advance of the campaign will be made to suffer politically.

CAPT. WILLIAMS' GIFT

Captain Mike Williams, of the marine ways, has given the city a fine white flag-pole fifty feet long. The pole will be erected on the city hall, and on June 15, flag day, a flag will be raised. The gift is appreciated by the city officials. The pole is a fine one, and Captain Williams did much of the work himself.

J. S. LIBELLED GIVES

BOND IN U. S. COURT

Deputy United States Marshal Elwood Neel returned this morning from Cairo, where he served papers on the excursion steamer "J. S." Frank Rounds, who owns a gasoline boat at Owensboro, had the papers issued on complaint that the steamer damaged his boat about $250. The J. S. is running excursions out of Cairo, and Marshal Neel served the papers on Captain John Strehches. The captain will come to Paducah this afternoon and execute a bond of $750 before Federal Court Clerk J. R. Puryear.

Co. Attorney W. L. Krone, of Lyon, Threatened With Anonymous Note That He Should Resign His Office

Call for Troops Justified by Conditions Around Eddyville and Kuttawa—Courage of Official, Who Stands Alone.

Dangers are thickening around County Attorney W. L. Krone, of Lyon county, as shown by an anonymous letter he received this week which warned him to resign from his office. The letter was dated at Kuttawa and mailed to Attorney Krone. It is as follows:

"W. L. Krone, Eddyville, Ky.
"I would advise you to throw up your office and step down and out. You had better heed."

Feeling in Lyon county against Attorney Krone by persons who have good reason to fear a faithful official is strong, as shown in the unwarranted attack on the attorney Monday, and this feeling seems to be growing more bitter every day. Those citizens who desire the enforcement of the laws, are giving indifferent support to the county attorney and Judge Crumbaugh, while their enemies are losing no opportunity to intimidate them. It has gotten to the point where these two men stand practically alone in their position against lawlessness, and the call for more troops was made only in dire necessity.

No raids by large bodies of men are looked for in Lyon county, but the situation has settled down into personal and individual feuds and animosities.

Attempt on Life of Dreyfus.

Paris, June 4.—William Gregory, military editor of the 'La Gaulois', attempted to assassinate Major Alfred Dreyfus, the French military martyr, during the ceremony transferring the body of Zola, the noted writer and friend of Dreyfus, to the Pantheon. Gregory was standing within three feet of President Fallieres when he fired two shots at Dreyfus. The bullets entered his right arm, but he was not seriously hurt. Fallieres' party, including Dreyfus, was leaving the Pantheon to review the troops. As they passed Gregory, in the press stand, he fired. With coolness Fallieres and diplomats proceeded to the reviewing stand without manifesting any concern and prevented a stampede. Gregory was arrested. Gregory was badly beaten by bystanders before he was rushed to the police station. The worst feature of the affair is that it promises to reawaken the fight over the Jewish question throughout France.

BASKET FACTORY WILL BE STARTED BY CAPITALISTS

If Judge Walter Evans will sustain the sale of the Mergenthaler-Horton basket factory to F. E. Lack for $34,075 it is an assured fact that the plant will be operated. While names are withheld it has been learned that foreign capitalists want to lease the plant for at least five years, and that the plant will be kept in operation for that time. While there is doubt as to whether Judge Evans will sustain the second sale, it would be good for Paducah's business to have the basket factory in operation.

MURKIN TURNER BRYAN DIES FROM CONGESTION.

Marvin Turner Bryan, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Bryan, of Elva, died last night of congestion of the stomach. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The burial will be in Wallace cemetery, Marshall county.

Frame Building.

Mr. Ed Greif has taken out a building permit for a frame building on Kentucky avenue between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, to cost $1,500. The contractor is John Arts.

QUEER MURDERER HAS KILLED MANY IT IS BELIEVED

Minneapolis, June 4.—The police declare James Montague, 15 years old, who killed A. P. Camden, is the queerest murderer on record. The boy is believed to be demented. He had never seen Camden before and said he felt the necessity of killing some one. He insists he gets $150 for every person he kills. The police discovered Montague had been masquerading as a girl and they are trying to trace other mysterious crimes to him.

GOLSON ACQUITTED.
Hopkinsville, Ky., June 4. (Special.)—Max Gholson, a half breed Indian, charged with night riding in connection with the raid on Hopkinsville, was acquitted. The jury was out a few minutes.

CLASS B PACERS SHOULD SATISFY LOVER OF HORSES

The class B pacing race tomorrow afternoon should furnish one of the most exciting contests of the season. There are five starters and only three seconds difference in the best time made by them this spring, for a mile. Brook Hill holds first place with a mile in 2:32 last Tuesday. Sam Patch has worked a mile this year in 2:33. Rain in the Face in 2:34, and Gus B and Tobe Scott in 2:35. Races of this kind where the starters are evenly matched please the public, and the management of the club is going to make every effort to classify the horses properly throughout the season. The heavy rains of the past two days will put the track in fine shape and fast time is expected.

SCHOOL IS ENDED WITH EXERCISES OF COMMENCEMENT

Ten Young Men and Women Graduated From High School This Evening.

Lincoln High School on Tomorrow Night.

EXERCISES OF CLASS DAY

Tonight the annual commencement of the High school will be held at the Kentucky theater, by the class of '08. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. E. S. Harris, of Humboldt, Tenn., who has selected "The Search for the Blue Flower" as his subject. The stage has been decorated prettily with flowers for the commencement by the school board, although the board has refused permission for the graduates to receive flowers. The woodlawn scene will be used and the graduates will be seated in a semicircle on the stage with the faculty, while the school board will occupy a box.

The girls of the class will wear white dresses, and the young men will be dressed in blue serge suits with black bow ties. Following the request of the school board, the graduates will not make any elaborate show of dress. The spade from the graduating class will be presented to the B seniors. This has been done on class night for the past few years. In the class are seven girls and three boys. The class roll is: Misses Saidee Marie Smith, Margaret Beatrice Schwab, Ethel Virginia Sights, Helen Hills, Lucille F. Well, Eunice Irene Robertson, Bess Marie Lane, and Messrs. Gus Elliott, Edwin Wall Randle and J. Will Rock. Miss Saidee

SMALL FORTUNE DUE GRANDFATHER'S HEIRS

To investigate $7,000 worth of property, that has never been distributed among the heirs, Caleb Harrison, of Grahamville, left this morning for Hopkinsville. Mr. Harrison's grandfather owned considerable property near Hopkinsville. When Harrison was quite young his father moved from Hopkinsville, and at the death of his grandfather the property was not all divided. Just recently Mr. Harrison learned that there was $7,000 worth of property with interest on it for 20 years, that should come to his sister, Mrs. John Simmons, and his brother, Joseph Harrison, of Missouri. Mr. Harrison was in Paducah today, but left for Hopkinsville in the hope of learning something of the legacy.

Busby, the speaker's private secretary, completed their journey over the mountains today and reached this city.

It is probable that the automobiles will be abandoned here and the speaker and Hemenway hurry to their homes by train, both having received urgent telegrams from political and business associates to hurry to their homes.

LIFE INSURANCE

PAID INTO KENTUCKY AMOUNT- ED TO $6,672,724 IN YEAR.

Paducah Receives $88,899 as Her Share With Two Big Policies Paid.

Louisville, June 4.—Louisville, with its payment of $1,523,560, received about one-quarter of all the life insurance money paid into the state during the year. The total for Kentucky was $6,672,724. It was behind that of Indiana by $1,500,000 and in advance of Wisconsin by one-tenth of a million dollars. With the single exception of Missouri, Kentucky had more insurance money paid into her borders during 1907 than any other southern state. New York leads all the states in this respect with $65,100,000.

Paducah received $88,899, only two policies being over $10,000. Ernest Rehkopf, $15,019, and John Sinnott, $10,159. La Center received $2,000; Maxon Mills, $3,000; Murray, $1,250; Benton, $10,000, and Clinton $9,950.

HORSE THROWS PRESIDENT.

Chief Executive Lands in a Creek Near Washington.

Washington, June 3.—President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt went horseback riding, accompanied only by an orderly. A report became current that when the president attempted to cross the ford at Rocky Creek park his horse reared and that both the horse and the president fell into the stream, which is shallow at that point.

At the white house inquiry was met by laughing denial. It was said that the president was in excellent health and spirits and had enjoyed his ride without accident.

It was not I that dared betray
What none should know save you

The ear blade told the sailor boy,
Who sang our love to all the

NEW MILITIA LAW.

Washington, June 4.—The new Dick Militia law passed congress makes many changes in the present laws. The organized militia of the country is increased to 150,000 men, to whose support the government will annually appropriate $2,000,000.

Under the bill whenever the president calls forth the organized militia to be employed in the service of the United States it is provided that he may specify in his call the period for which such service is required and that "the militia so called forth shall continue to serve during the period so specified, either within or without the territory of the United States, unless sooner relieved by order of the president," but there is a proviso that "no commissioned officer or enlisted man of the organized militia shall be held to service beyond the term of his existing commission or enlistment." There is another provision requiring that "when the necessity to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection or repel invasion cannot be met by the regular forces, the organized militia shall be called forth into service of the United States in advance of any volunteer force which it may be determined to raise."

Still another important feature of the law is the section which provides that every officer and enlisted man of the militia who shall be called forth in the manner prescribed shall be mustered for service "without further examination previous to such muster, except for those states and territories which have not adopted the standard of medical examination prescribed for the regular army. In this connection there is a provision requiring that "any officer or enlisted man who shall refuse or neglect to present himself for such muster, upon being called forth as herein prescribed, shall be subject to trial by court-martial and shall be punished as such court-martial shall direct."

The majority membership of such court-martial for the trial of officers or men of the militia who are in the service of the United States must be composed of militia officers.

This is the feature of the bill which was most strongly opposed by John Sharp Williams and some other members of the house.

Old Coughs

Keep in close touch with your family doctor. No medicine was ever made that could take his place. Trust him at all times.

Old coughs, desperate coughs, rasping coughs, extremely perilous coughs, coughs that shake the whole body. It takes a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine, to master such coughs. A great many people rely on Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Ohio Valley Improvement Will Be Considered at Louisville Meeting

Louisville, Ky., June 4.—Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, arrived in Louisville last night from his home in Columbus, O., to confer with the members of the local executive committee, in whose hands arrangements for the coming convention of the association, to be held October 22 and 23 in this city, have been left. The committee will hold a meeting this afternoon at the Commercial club at 2:30 o'clock. Plans for the convention, including arrangements for the entertainment of delegates and guests and the question of obtaining reduced rates on all railroads for the delegates will be discussed. The commercial organizations of this city, as well as New Albany and Jeffersonville, are represented in the committee.

Louisville is the first stop on the extended trip down the Ohio that Col. Vance has just begun. In his itinerary he intends to include Evansville, Owensboro, Paducah, Henderson and Cairo. The purpose of the trip, he said last night, is to arouse enthusiasm at the above points as well as all intermediate points within the Ohio valley in the coming convention, and to urge as many as possible to be present and take part in the deliberations and plans.

Highly Enthusiastic.

Col. Vance is highly enthusiastic about prospects just now. Looking at the situation from every viewpoint, the good and the apparently bad, he said there is every reason for the promoters of the improvement of the Ohio to believe that it is only a matter of time till the entire attention of the country will be called to the marvelous possibilities of the Ohio river. In the opinion of Col. Vance, the Ohio holds in her waters the key to the solution of the improvement of the waterways system of the entire United States. All that is now needed, he said, is a helping hand from the government, an increased enthusiasm on the part of the people not only in the Ohio valley, but the whole country, and an efficient staff of workmen, then he said the muddy Ohio will within the course of a few years, from Pittsburgh to Cairo, be able to float boats of great size because of the nine-foot stage that seems to be so great a necessity to those who have been students of the waterways problem.

Immortal Shakespeare Suppressed by Police—And at Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—The works of the immortal Shakespeare have fallen under the displeasure of the Chicago police. Lieutenant Joel A. Smith, police censor, refused to permit a moving picture show which depicted the tragedy of Macbeth as played by Thomas W. Keene, until the duel between Macbeth and Macduff had been cut out. The scene of Lady Macbeth and the dagger was also cut out.

Fisherman's Luck.

The fact he caught no fish at all does not distress him much. Upon bad luck of such a kind he is not apt to touch. The fisherman will raise his voice lamenting all the day and tell of how, despite his pains, The big one got away. —New York Sun.

THE FIRST TASTE

Learned to Drink Coffee When a Baby.

If parents realized the fact that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which is especially harmful to children, they would doubtless hesitate before giving the babies coffee to drink.

"When I was a child in my mother's arms and first began to nibble things at the table, mother used to give me sips of coffee. As my parents used coffee exclusively at meals I never knew there was anything to drink but coffee and water. "And so I contracted the coffee habit early. I remember when quite young, the continual use of coffee so affected my parents that they tried roasting wheat and barley, then ground it in the coffee-mill, as a substitute for coffee.

"But it did not taste right and they went back to coffee again. That was long before Postum was ever heard of. I continued to use coffee until I was 27, and when I got into office work, I began to have nervous spells. Especially after breakfast I was so nervous I could scarcely attend to my correspondence.

"A friend persuaded me to try Postum. My wife and I did not like it at first, but later when boiled good and strong it was fine. Now we would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever tasted. "I can now get good sleep, am free from nervousness and headaches. I recommend Postum to all coffee drinkers.

The School Year. Paducah's public schools have just closed the most successful session.

During the year in every particular the schools were successful, as there was no epidemic to prevent regular attendance, and the cases of suspension have dropped materially.

School was held for the first time in the Whittier building. In the middle of the term the pupils and teachers were changed from the old Longfellow to the new Longfellow building without a serious interruption of the school studies. The addition of school buildings has relieved a cramped condition for room, and lays open a wider field for good results next year.

In the High school probably better results have been had than any other year. With an average attendance of 165 students, much brighter hopes are looked for next year. In all probability a manual training course will be adopted as well as a commercial course. Prof. W. H. Sugg, the principal, in his first year has had a wonderful control over the school, and throughout the session only the best of feeling has existed between the faculty and the school body.

Owing to the growing numbers one addition has been made to the faculty which makes the faculty consist of eight teachers. In the school there has been the same old trouble of holding the boys until graduation, and with the new courses, it is believed the difficulty will be solved.

that has ever been held. Throughout the year perfect harmony has reigned in all departments, and the best of work has been done by the pupils. The average attendance of the schools has been 2,800, which is an increase of 58 over last year. Superintendent John A. Carnegie is especially happy over the good showing of the schools at the close of his first year's work, and he is looking to a continued improvement next year with an enlarged course of study. At all times he has had the interest of the schools at heart, and has given them his closest attention.

Old Gentleman—And if you had five hundred dollars and multiplied it by two what would you get?

Boy—Nautomobile! —Harper's Bazaar.

The management of this company asks the co-operation of owners and persons in charge of vehicles using the public highways to prevent collisions and accidents to persons using the streets.

Motormen are governed by rules based upon an experience of more than half a century. If these rules were always strictly observed, accidents would seldom occur. Motormen are carefully instructed and trained and are held strictly to account.

If drivers of vehicles would observe corresponding rules it is believed that collisions would be reduced to almost none. Many accidents would never take place if either the motorman or driver was alert to his duties.

The following rules for drivers are suggested:

1. Never cross a highway without first making sure that there is no other vehicle near enough to cause a collision.

2. Never turn suddenly onto a track when a car is approaching from either direction.

3. Always cross streets and turn corners at a moderate rate of speed.

4. In turning into another street do not "cut the corner," but make a full turn, keeping as far as possible to the right.

5. Be sure your horse is, or engine and brakes are, under perfect control, especially where the streets are crooked; where the view is obstructed, or when passing cars which passengers are entering or leaving.

6. Remember that a street car is confined to the track and that the motorman cannot turn out or stop his car instantly when "cut off."

7. Do not rely upon the motorman to save you from the consequences of your own carelessness. He may not be able to do so.

8. Where practicable, keep on the right of the road and as far from the track as safety requires.

9. Never turn upon a track in front of a car without first signalling the motorman your intention in time for him to make it safe for you to do so without risk.

10. Remember that constant vigilance is the price of safety.

Daily Thought.

A man cannot be at peace with himself while he lives in disobedience to known truth.—Benjamin Whichcote.

For so weighty an argument, Senator LaFollette's speech against the currency bill had little effect.

A returned missionary at Hopkinsville, after braving the terrors of the jungle, fell a victim to conveniences of modern civilization.

While admiring Governor Cummins, of Iowa, we are glad the veteran Allison was returned to the senate. His party service deserves the honor.

Uncle Joe Cannon and his automobile got stuck in the mud in Pennsylvania. Uncle Joe has always been considered a statesman of the old school, opposed to new enterprises; but no doubt now Uncle Joe will recall the early interest of the national government in building post roads, and further the progress of the national road building movement.

With Urey Woodson and former Governor Beckham in a hand-to-hand encounter at the Lexington convention for the position of national Democratic committeeman in the presidential campaign, presiding over the destinies of Kentucky's apportionment of the boodle, their friends in the districts of the state will rally in support of a cause they love, and some interest will attach to a convention, which is Bryan, anyway, and otherwise very tame.

POLITICAL AMENITIES.

Those gentlemen of the opposition, who are making campaign capital out of Secretary Taft's memorial address, should reflect that for the Republicans just at this juncture to asperse Grant is safer than to asperse Taft. A campaign of abuse and vilification seldom is effectual in a fight between candidates of opposing parties; but in a campaign for a nomination it is treasonable to the party's interests. It is a sign of weakness to seek preferment solely on comparative freedom from defects. Nominations for president are not made according to superficial political suitability for the candidacy. If they were we should always select a man without a record, so that he could not be attacked; whereas we now choose men with records of public service. The Republican party is not, as some politicians imagine, divided into factions, each seeking to control for the sake of control. It is selecting the man best suited for the presidency of the United States, and before the state and district conventions the various candidates have been trying out their popularity.

The successful one must go before the country and make the fight against a Democratic candidate. If the candidates all during the long ante-convention campaign devote their time and energies to disparaging their adversaries, putting evil construction on their acts and words and belittling their records, the successful candidate must necessarily be weakened in his party by the words, which leading Republicans and leading Republican newspapers have spoken against him, and the Democratic candidate must be armed with weapons from the Republican candidate's own camp.

It was to the interest of the party that every candidate should make the race on his own merit and personal strength. Who led in every section of the union in this contest of popularity, is too plain for comment. If we should choose our candidate, taking the one who spoke his mind most fearlessly and yet held the most discreet tongue and kept his supporters in check, we should choose Taft. Never has a candidate for the nomination been hampered more or irritated more by his adversaries. A cabal in congress did everything possible to injure him, and had not his record for honesty and efficiency been such as it is, he would have been ruined by the searchlights that played over his career. The light only made more plain the fine qualities of the man, and the ease with which he met every trying situation.

Purposely he was hemmed in on three sides by "favorite son" candidates and the most vindictive opposition was offered him in his own state. He never compromised at home. Irresistibly he swept every county, every city and every voting precinct in the state. He kept hands off the other states and permitted the "favorite sons" to win the complimentary votes of their own states; but north, south, east and west, opposition or no opposition, he won, and his strength proved greatest in those states of the north and west, where Republican United States senators and congressmen and governors controlled the patronage, even though they might have been political enemies of the administration.

Is it likely that a man, who had settled the far land troubles in the Philippines, started the Panama canal work on a business basis, calmed Cuba and smiled serenely through the vicious fight against him in the contest, should, in the hour of his triumph with a majority of the delegates pledged to him and assuring him of the loyal support of his candidacy, make a break with his tongue on an occasion that called for nothing more than a "hurrah for the flag" oration?

We are inclined to think that certain press bureaus have not been stopped. They were hired for the campaign, and have not received official information that the fight is over. These spiteful outbursts should be hushed. No one will believe the charges made against Taft by people, whose mouths have been the sources of their own political undoing.

POLITICAL ARCHAEOLOGY.

"The historic Democratic party was a firm believer in sound money," says a local paper, which is supporting Bryan for the presidency. "The Federalist party of which the present day Republican party is the successor and bodily heir, stood for inflation and fiat money."

There is a column and a half more of it; but the rest is just as true and accurate as the declaration that the Republican party is the "bodily heir" of the old Federalist party, of which probably not one voter was living when the Republican party came into being. Perhaps, some old Whig notions clung to early Republicans and the party became indoctrinated with certain Whig principles; but the Republican party was created for a purpose, free from the traditional limitations and the narrow views of the first confederation of states, and in that freedom and flexibility, borne up by the purity of its original motives, has met every demand of new conditions and problems. No adjectives of antiquity, excepting such fragments of the fundamental principles of eternal truth as it may have caught up, describe the Republican party of today or yesterday.

In a Minor Key.

Rich is its haunting minor key—
Moaning for things that can never be,
Or things that are lost to the day
and sun,
Back in some black oblivion.

It moves on wings from the misty past,
Over its gloom are shadows cast.

It whistles a dirge for ancient days—
Solemnly sad are the tunes it plays.
Its volume rises and falls. It fills
The heart with tremors and doubts and thrills.

It roams the breadth of the sea and earth,
But it never harbors a note of mirth.

O, gray old harper, in wondrous ways,
Your requiem tells of the yester-
days—

But who that lives can the tale translate,
Or quote the presage of Life and Fate?

But sing away, in the chimney flue,
Of things that are old and things that are new—

THU sorrow and suffering seem sublime—
To the very ends of the sands of Time!

CHAPTER IX.

Barred by Bayonets.

Resting by his sea voyage, and glowing with a determination to win his way across the border but with no definite idea as to what method he should pursue, Guy Heller landed in Montreal. His first effort was to gain what details he could as to the nature of the embargo which had been placed on travelers between the two countries, after which he lost no time in personally studying the habits of the border camps. Long residence in America had lessened the broadness of his A's, and with a little practice his R's were almost those of the average New Yorker.

The meager information he succeeded in gathering was not altogether trustworthy, as he was soon to learn. He had been told that certain Americans, in Canada at the time the line of blue was drawn, were permitted to pass, and thus regain their homes, and on this he based his first ally. There was no trouble whatever in gaining the encampments nor in interviewing the officers in command of that section of the defense. A smart-appearing sentry passed him over to the guardship of a soldier off duty, who conducted him to one of the regulation tents which dotted the hillside back of the line.

On the orderly's presenting his card, a voice from within hailed: "Come in!" and he entered the little house of canvas to find three officers engaged in some game of cards which he did not understand.

"What can I do for you?" the commander inquired, rising from his camp stool and still holding the visitor's card in his hand.

"I am anxious to cross the line," Hiller replied.

The officer laughed and shook his head. "I'm sorry, sir, but we have had as high as 100 applications of this nature in one day, and my orders forbid my acceding to any such request."

"But you pass Americans, do you not?"

Again the officer smiled tolerantly, replying with good nature: "Not under conditions like these. We have no choice in the matter. If you are an American, I thoroughly appreciate your anxiety to go home; but I cannot help you."

It began to look less easy. "Is there no way at all?" asked Hiller.

"My dear sir," the officer answered, "the prophet Moses leading his band across the Red sea had an easier trip than you could make through our lines."

For a moment the courier lost patience, and then as a last resort he decided to make a clean breast of his errand. "Colonel," he said, "I am not an American; I am the secretary of the British embassy in Washington—was up to the time of this war. I came as a special messenger from my country, bearing important dispatches, which I am to deliver only into the hands of his excellency, the president of the United States. The accomplishment of my mission may have a grave bearing on this conflict, and it possibly may prevent bloodshed."

The colonel turned to one side and threw down the playing cards which he had been holding before making any reply. His companions looked highly interested; but their faces gave no hope.

"Mr. Hiller, there have been at least 20 men before me with similar important messages, many of whom have come direct from other foreign powers. The first of these I took from them and sent forward by special couriers of my own. In each case I was given a reprieve. Come here," he said, and preceded Hiller out into the open, where a bulletin board was nailed against a tree. In the very center of a collection of orders pasted thereon was one which read:

"General Order No. 27,007: Order No. 16,004, which was delivered to all officers, bulletined and read to all men, permits of no modification whatever. It reads: 'No man shall pass through the lines, either in or out, and under no circumstances shall any communication be passed, either in or out, save on the written permit duly sealed and signed by the president of the United States.'"

"Is that emphatic enough?" he asked, turning to Hiller, who reluctantly admitted that it allowed of no misinterpretation.

"But," said the latter half jokingly, "suppose I make a run for it?"

"In that case, Mr. Hiller," the officer answered gravely, "my men would unhesitatingly drill you full of holes, and I should be sorry to see a man whom I take to be a gentleman make such an attempt. This may look like play; but underneath gloved hands along this border are the claws of war. Don't, please, make me unshut them!"

The secretary, baffled, declined the proffer of a drink, and was promptly escorted back across the Canadian lines; but on the way he made new plans. He was only rebuffed by his first failure, and with doggedness he set his jaws and swore that by some means or other he would go to Washington. Time was becoming more and more valuable, so much of it had been expended in his first inquiries and overtures. He would now be driven to stealth and disguise.

He returned to the city, bought a shabby suit of clothes from a second-hand dealer, checked his luggage in the hotel, put the precious dispatches in a pocket within his shirt, and called for an automobile. The machine carried him rapidly down a well-rolled road till night fell, when he paid the chauffeur, and as an additional precaution for the sake of secrecy walked ahead till satisfied that he had put many miles between himself and anyone who might have observed his coming.

He had seen enough during the day to be convinced that under ordinary circumstances it would be impossible to pass the sentries, whose beats were exceptionally short, and who formed almost a continuous line as far as he had been able to observe. His inquiries had elicited the information that somewhere in the vicinity a small river flowed between the two countries, and he purposed using this tributary of the St. Lawrence as a means to gain the other country. His plan was rendered more tenable because the moon, being in the full, favored him. The night itself seemed most propitious, as from the west a dark bank of clouds was slowly coming forward, promising to lend obscurity at a time when it should be most needed. PADUCAH RETAINS on all sides, about this federation meeting. Mrs. Riker was pleased with the attendance and thought it large considering the competition of the general federation in Boston, which many Kentucky club women will attend.

Great business and social exertions Wednesday did not prevent a large attendance at this morning's session at 10 o'clock. The Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor for the First Presbyterian church, opened the session with prayer. Mrs. Riker announced that the presidents of the Illinois and Missouri state federations had sent telegrams of greetings to the Kentucky federation. The council of Jewish women in Louisville also sent greetings and a letter from Mrs. Emma Perkins, an ex-federation president, who is in Europe, was read.

Four committees of the state federation reported this morning. The library extension, traveling library, civie, pure food. Mrs. Morris Bartlett, of Lawrenceburg, chairman of the library extension committee, reported that libraries all over the state have been improved, some built and interest in others greatly increased by her committee. Allied with the library extension work is the traveling library, whose work for the year was reported by the chairman, Miss Fannie C. Rawson. The federation gave Miss Rawson a rising vote of thanks for her excellent work and at the conclusion of her report, the Rev. J. R. Henry, pastor of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, expressed his good opinion of the quality of work being done by the federation. The traveling libraries have been vastly enlarged this year.

Mrs. Lafon Riker, of Harrodsburg, read the report of the civics committee for Mrs. T. J. Smith, who could not be present. The report advised the enlistment of the children in the work of sanitation and beautification in municipalities. This committee's work is evident in every town in the state, where they have attempted improvement. Mrs. C. P. Weaver, of Louisville, had placards of statistics to illustrate her report from the sub-committee of civics on health, which showed Kentucky to be low in the scale of states that are spending money to prevent disease. Miss Lilla Breed, of Louisville, chairman of the pure food committee reported great activity by the state authorities in enforcing the laws.

Miss Elizabeth Sinnott in the last report of the credentials committee, said that 103 visitors are present, 82 of whom are delegates, 8 state officers and 8 chairmen.

Constitution Amended.

During the balloting for officers, the committee on amending the constitution reported, changing Article 6, so that clubs with 30 members or less shall pay $3 a year to the state federation, and clubs with over 30 members, ten cents per capita. This will increase the cost to the large clubs. Philanthropic clubs will be admitted on the basis of small clubs, in the discretion of the executive board.

Three subjects on Wednesday's program were given this morning. The report of the auditor was accepted, as was the treasurer's report, which was given yesterday. Miss Anna Webb read the report of the arts and crafts committee in the absence of Mrs. J. R. Morton, of Louisville. This committee's work is to restore handicrafts to rural homes, from which modern machinery has operated to remove it. Mrs. John Wirt Dinsmore, of Berea college, addressed the meeting on "Fireside Industries," illustrating her talk with coverlets, homespun cloth and baskets, made in the mountains of Kentucky by women. They were beautiful examples of the art. In this connection, Mrs. Riker read a personal letter from Governor A. E. Willson, in which he encouraged the work and promised to give it his support.

Thank the Press.

Mrs. Edmund Post, of the press committee, moved and it was unanimously agreed to, to thank the local press for their reports of the meeting. Clubs will work next year as formerly, owing to visits she will make in Virginia and New York. She was largely responsible for bringing Judge Willis Brown, of Salt Lake City, here winter before last, whose lecture on juvenile courts was a notable event.

Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, president of the Matinee Musical club, probably will have her work extended to include the whole state. A new department to the federation will not be created, but it is desired that music be treated from a state-wide viewpoint.

Schmaus Bros. furnished all the palms and potted plants used in the club building, and Brunson decorated the dining room for the luncheon yesterday. Post cards of Paducah were furnished free to the delegates.

Miss Hallie Hisey, chairman of the committee on ushers and pages, announced the names of the persons to serve today: Thursday morning, Misses Faith Langstaff, Caroline Sowell and Philippa Hughes, ushers; Misses Jean Morris and Helen Hillis, pages. Thursday afternoon, Misses Blanche Hills, Lillie Mae Winstead, Rella Coleman and Ethel Brooks, ushers; Misses Julia Dabney and Ellen Boswell, pages. Thursday evening, at Wallace park, Misses Lula Reed, Clara Park and Mary Scott, ushers.

This Afternoon.

Miss Luella Boyd, of Covington, first vice-president, is presiding over this afternoon's session, which began at 2:30 o'clock. It is customary for the president to vacate for one session in favor of the first vice-president. Mrs. Letcher Riker has made a splendid presiding officer, and Miss Lillian Lindsey, as recording secretary, and Miss Haldon Hardin, as corresponding secretary, have given entire satisfaction. All committees that have not reported will do so this afternoon.

Wednesday Evening.

Strenuous, the word made famous by President Roosevelt, is the only one that will adequately describe Wednesday's program of the state federation. Starting with a business session at 10:30 o'clock, few breathing spells were found in the whole day, until nearly midnight, when the second reception was ended.

After the morning business session, which closed at 12:45 o'clock, luncheon was served in the club building and the afternoon session began at 2:15 o'clock in the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. Mr. E. N. Clapper, of the national child labor committee, made a short and comprehensive address on the importance of supporting the Kentucky child labor law, whose enemies are working to have certain vital paragraphs repealed in 1910. He recommended that the chairman of local committees send lists of names of men and women in their communities who are interested in alleviating the conditions he described, to Mrs. C. P. Weaver, of Louisville, who will turn them over to the Kentucky Child Labor association. This association will communicate with the persons whose names are sent in. Mr. Clapper said that there is an economic advantage to the community where child labor is prohibited, over communities where it is permitted.

Club Reports.

Remarkable evidence of woman's self-possession in public was shown in the two minute reports from the individual clubs, that followed Mr. Clapper's address. Not a single one of the numerous club reporters faltered on the stage, while the poise and diction of some were highly creditable. As a group, the six Paducah women, who reported from the local clubs, Mrs. Louis Hicke, Alumni association; Mrs. Mildred Davis, Delphic club; Mrs. Hubbard Wells, Matinee Musical club; Miss Anna Webb, Magazine club; Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Kalosophic club, and James A. Rudy, the Woman's club, easily ranked among the best speakers. Mrs. Rudy, as head of the Paducah clubs in entertaining the federation, was applauded vigorously.

Her report showed that the Paducah Woman's club handled over $5,000 last year, and no city in the state has clubs that have attempted more ambitious programs than Paducah.

A bird's eye view of the work attempted by Kentucky clubs, was gotten in the reports yesterday afternoon. It showed them active in a wide variety of literary, artistic, civie, economic, social and philanthropic lines. Lawrenceburg club women have been made members of the commercial club of that town, and recognition of the "boosting" value of women's clubs has been given in other ways in nearly all cities. Several reports were read for delegates who were unable to attend. Notable among these was that of Mrs. Juliet R. Belknap, of Louisville, who wrote her report on a sick bed, and which Miss Carlyle A. Leech gave in her absence. The report dealt with the work of the woman's auxiliary of the Kentucky Humane society and indicated that greater interest in this humanitarian subject is evident throughout the state. Nearly three hours were consumed in giving the club reports, under the direction of Miss Haldon Hardin, corresponding secretary. The attendance was good to the end, but several numbers on the program were postponed at 5:15 o'clock until today, to give the dele-

The Entertainment.

Continuing Wednesday's strenuous program, the delegates and Paducah club women left the wharfboat at 7:10 o'clock for a river ride on the fast steamer Dick Fowler, under the personal charge of Mr. Saunders Fowler and Captain Mark Cole. The sky cleared perceptibly before the boat left and over a hundred guests enjoyed one of the most unique social entertainments the federation has ever known, and from expressions of those aboard, an entertainment that will stand out among all the elaborate functions of this meeting. Music was furnished by the steamer orchestra, while the guests scattered over the handsome steamer, to be served with ices and cakes wherever they happened to sit down. After going several miles up the Tennessee river, the boat turned around and went down the Ohio river past Paducah, thus affording the guests a ride on both rivers. Much regret was expressed at the enforced brevity of the trip, when the boat landed at the wharfboat at 8:10 o'clock. Mrs. Edmund Post, third vice-president of the federation, Mrs. Mildred Davis and Miss Mattie Fowler were the hostesses of the river trip.

Toilets were again made for the second of Wednesday evening's entertainment at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church at 9 o'clock, when local talent gave a recital of ten numbers. Mesdames George B. Hart, James Weille and Lela Wade Lewis, Misses Anne Bradshaw, Lula Reed, Mamie O'Brien, Mayme Dreyfuss and Messrs. Richard Scott and William Deal participated. The weather was quiet and a large audience, elegantly gowned, filled the church. The reception by the Matinee Musical club followed at the Woman's club building at 10 o'clock.

Many delegates and local club women, who were kept away from Tuesday evening's opening reception by the rain, attended this reception, making it, if possible, more brilliant than that function. In the receiving line were the officers of the Matinee Musical club, the presidents of the federated clubs in this city and the federation officers. Downstairs the active members of the Matinee Musical club helped to entertain while the associate members had charge upstairs.

Cut flowers and potted plants were distributed artistically over the building. Punch was served on the back porch by Misses Aline Bagby, Mayme Dreyfuss, Anne Bradshaw, Lula Reed and Mary Scott. Ices and cake were served in the dining room, the club colors of violet and gold prevailing in the designs. On the cakes, various musical instruments were traced.

New arrivals for the meeting yesterday were: Mrs. Ora L. Adams, Harrodsburg; Mrs. David Johnson, Clinton; Mrs. W. P. Phillips, Louisville; Mrs. Frank Beckham Powers, Lawrenceburg; Mrs. L. E. Rue, Danville; Mrs. John L. Gray, Smithland; Mrs. J. L. Woodbury, Louisville; Mrs. John Durham, Franklin; Mrs. R. E. Goldsby, Fulton; Mrs. L. R. Reynolds, Mrs. W. W. Morris, Fulton; Mrs. H. W. Houghton, Boston.

TO CURB LOOSE TONGUES.

New York Preacher to Repeat Gossip With Names of Gossipers.

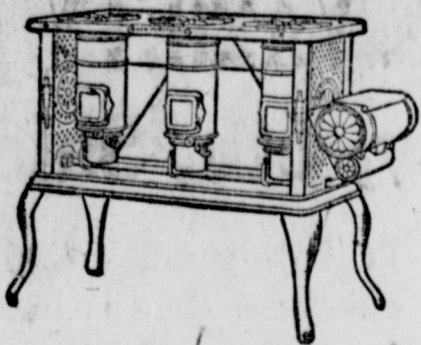

Utica, N. Y., June 4.—The Rev. Henry MacLravy, who for several years has been the pastor of a Little Falls church, told his congregation last evening that he was going to curb the gossipers who live in the town.

He was of the opinion that in Little Falls there are just twelve fountain heads of gossip, and he said that these twelve might well be matched against all the other gossipers of the country, they having the qualities and faculties amounting to genius in gossip, and at least they would win prizes in a contest. In order to curb loose tongues Mr. MacLravy announced that he had decided to set apart one Sunday of the month to squelching gossipers.

He will on that day recite the gossip, without the names of the victims but with the names of the gossipers. In this way the public will become acquainted with the twelve gossipers' names, and some who are not far behind.

TELLS HARD LUCK STORY TO POLICE

Woman Dressed in Man's Apparel in Company of Hobo's

Mrs. Kate Girard Says Her Husband Abused Her and She Was on Way to City.

SHE IS ARRESTED IN THIS CITY

Dressed as a man and waiting for a freight train with three men, Mrs. Kate Girard was arrested last night south of the Union station by Patrolmen Kirk, of the Illinois Central force, and Patrolmen Rousch and Bryant. In appearance she resembles a young man, but her voice betrayed her. When found she wore a soft crushed hat, a cheap coat and shirt, a pair of overalls and a pair of white tennis shoes. She told the patrolmen her story of hard luck, which has not been contradicted. With her were C. McKenzie, Warren Baker and John Nicholson, who were arrested on a charge of loitering around the station.

In appearance Mrs. Girard would pass for a young man with her sun-tanned face, blue eyes and bold nose. Her light hair is clipped close, but a part in the middle may be seen from under her hat. She is about five feet four inches tall, and weighs 135 pounds. This morning in police court she wore a corduroy cap, but was dressed in a new dress. She is calm and answers all questions readily.

Mrs. Girard says her home is in Cincinnati, but two years ago her parents died and she was married to Elias Girard, who lived near Evansville. They farmed last summer and cleared about $4,000. Their home life was happy, and preparations were made for this year's crop, when the high water covered their farm and they went to the city. Girard began drinking, and Katie said he made life so miserable that she packed her household goods, and taking what money she could find left for Mound City, Ill. Her brother, Thomas Pelcher, worked in a saw mill, but Mrs. Girard could not find work there, and becoming discouraged, wanted to return to Cincinnati to her brother, John Pelcher. Borrowing $6 from her brother, she repacked her household goods and shipped them to Cincinnati. Her purse was empty and being unable to get more aid, she decided to hobo her way to the Queen City.

Old men's clothes were borrowed from a neighbor, and at Mound City she met McKenzie, who was going to Louisville. At Water Valley she found her long hair was difficult to keep under her hat and had a negro woman to cut it off. She put it in her pocket and regarded it as a treasure. Paducah was reached early Tuesday morning, and since then she has been walking over the city. Last night she and McKenzie went to the Union station, where they met Warren Baker, of Memphis, and John Nicholson, a 16-year-old Paducah boy. Several cans of beer had been drunk when Patrolman Kirk received a tip she was a woman. Quietly advancing Mr. Kirk played hobo, and after learning their intentions called Patrolmen Bryant and Rousch from their hiding places and the bunch was nabbed.

This morning in court McKenzie admitted he knew his companion was a woman, but the two other boys did not know Mrs. Girard. When arrested the men cursed and abused the patrolmen and were fined $15 and costs this morning in police court.

HANDICAPPED BY HIGH SCHOOL '08

Proves Great Success and Highly Entertaining.

Large Attendance at Performance in High School Auditorium Last Night.

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Threatening weather did not prevent a large attendance at the presentation of "Handicapped," the senior class play, last night at the High school auditorium. It was the first play ever given on class night, and the innovation proved most acceptable to the large audience. The seniors have rehearsed faithfully on their play and their reward comes in the statement that it was the best play ever given at the High school. The play is really a High school production as it has been so altered and improved that the original play is another story. Closely woven into the play are delightful musical features and local jokes that all can understand only add to the enjoyment of the play.

The scene is laid at the Summerville academy for young ladies, and during the absence of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, the girls have a trolle. During her absence, Teddy Thurston, a youth given to racing, and the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a new professor, arrive at the academy. The old confusion of an exchange of coats comes in brightened up, and Teddy is introduced as the professor, and Dr. Stiggs as the young man. The light plot of the play is carried merrily on, and the restoring of order once more in the academy brings out much fun.

Miss Helen Hills as Miss Plinks, the teacher who had seen younger days, was most satisfactory to the audience. Her constant hope of a man brought many bright lines into the play. Mr. Edwin Randle as the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a badly frightened young professor, came in for applause for his good work. His appearance on the stage was a signal for mirth. Miss Eunice Robertson played the part of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, with dignity and self-control. Teddy Thurston, the young man with a view of life in a light vein, was in capable hands by Gus Elliott, and he made a dashing young lover. Will Rock assumed the role of Tom, the janitor, and made much out of a minor part. Ethel Sights and Margaret Schwab as Roberta and Georgiana, the twins, were as mischievous as two twins are supposed to be. Miss Saldee Smith and Miss Bess Lane as May and Nellie Lawton, were refreshing in their work and their lines.

Of the musical numbers, the duets of Miss Bess Lane and Gus Elliott in "I'd Like to Rock You in My Heart," was greeted with merited applause. Miss Helen Hills sang "What the Rose Said," with humorous effect. May Ethel Sights sang "Cupid—Phd," a clever little song with one stanza relating to the High school. "The Girls of P. H. S." was sung by Edwin Randle with the chorus. "Under the Tropical Moon" was a good coon song for Will Rock and with his dance was greatly enjoyed. The school girl chorus sang "I Can't Do That Sum," and the closing chorus was "I Want to Go Back."

The play was staged and rehearsed under the direction of Miss Anna Bird Stewart, and the ease with which the young actors distinguished themselves was due largely to Miss Stewart's teaching. Miss Adah L. Brazelton had supervision of the musical numbers and the songs which lent much for the success of the play.

MANUEL WEINSTOCK

DIES OF BLADDER TROUBLE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Former Business Man of Louisville Comes to Paducah But Fails of Relief.

Paducah did not afford the relief Mr. Manuel Weinstock, of Centra, Ill., expected, for he died last night at 10:49 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Michael, Fourth and Ohio streets, from bladder trouble, after having been here only a week. Mr. Weinstock was 60 years old and was born in Philadelphia. When young, he moved with his parents to Louisville, where he was in business for many years until 1903, when he went to Centra, Ill. He is survived by four sons and two daughters, Messrs. Alexander, William and Samuel Weinstock, of Louisville, and Charles Weinstock, of Centra, and Mrs. Benjamin Michael and Mrs. Jennie Weinstock, of Paducah. Two brothers, Messrs. Harmon and Abe Weinstock, also survive him. The body will be taken to Louisville for burial. Mr. Weinstock had many friends in Paducah and other cities where he had lived.

SKIN DISEASES

CAUSED BY HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

The skin is provided with countless pores and glands, through which an evaporation is going on continually, day and night. This is nature's method of regulating the temperature of our bodies, and preserving the natural appearance of the skin. These pores and glands are connected with tiny veins and arteries through which they receive, from the blood, the necessary nourishment and strength to preserve their healthy condition, and enable them to perform this duty.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruption or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are lost. Its acid, humor-laden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres of the pores and glands, and the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

These humors get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the body fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood. There are also certain other humors which get into the blood from without. The juice or milk from poisonous plants, such as poison oak, poison ivy, nettle rash, etc., enters through the open pores of the skin and takes root in the blood. This causes a breaking out which remains for a time and then disappears, but returns at certain seasons of each year.

The cause of all skin troubles can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come through a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay the itching, and tend to reduce inflammation; they cannot correct the trouble because they do not reach the blood.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind, because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all eruptions and diseases of the skin. When S. S. S. has driven the humor from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

Special book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

HANDICAPPED BY HIGH SCHOOL '08

Proves Great Success and Highly Entertaining.

Large Attendance at Performance in High School Auditorium Last Night.

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Threatening weather did not prevent a large attendance at the presentation of "Handicapped," the senior class play, last night at the High school auditorium. It was the first play ever given on class night, and the innovation proved most acceptable to the large audience. The seniors have rehearsed faithfully on their play and their reward comes in the statement that it was the best play ever given at the High school. The play is really a High school production as it has been so altered and improved that the original play is another story. Closely woven into the play are delightful musical features and local jokes that all can understand only add to the enjoyment of the play.

The scene is laid at the Summer-ville academy for young ladies, and during the absence of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, the girls have a trolle. During her absence, Teddy Thurston, a youth given to racing, and the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a new professor, arrive at the academy. The old confusion of an exchange of coats comes in brightened up, and Teddy is introduced as the professor, and Dr. Stiggs as the young man. The light plot of the play is carried merrily on, and the restoring of order once more in the academy brings out much fun.

Miss Helen Hills as Miss Pinks, the teacher who had seen younger days, was most satisfactory to the audience. Her constant hope of a man brought many bright lines into the play. Mr. Edwin Randle as the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a badly frightened young professor, came in for applause for his good work. His appearance on the stage was a signal for mirth. Miss Eunice Robertson played the part of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, with dignity and self-control. Teddy Thurston, the young man with a view of life in a light vein, was in capable hands by Gus Elliott, and he made a dashing young lover. Will Rock assumed the role of Tom, the janitor, and made much out of a minor part. Ethel Sights and Margaret Schwab as Roberta and Georgiana, the twins, were as mischievous as twins are supposed to be. Miss Saidee Smith and Miss Bess Lane as May and Nellie Lawton, were refreshing in their work and their lines.

Of the musical numbers, the duets of Miss Bess Lane and Gus Elliott in "I'd Like to Rock You in My Heart," was greeted with merited applause. Miss Helen Hills sang "What the Rose Said," with humorous effect. Miss Ethel Sights sang "Cupid—Phd," a clever little song with one stanza relating to the High school. "The Girl of P. H. S." was sung by Edwin Randle with the chorus. "Under the Tropical Moon" was a good coon song for Will Rock and with his dance was greatly enjoyed. The school girl chorus sang "I Can't Do That Sum," and the closing chorus was "I Want to Go Back."

The play was staged and rehearsed under the direction of Miss Anna Bird Stewart, and the ease with which the young actors distinguished themselves was due largely to Miss Stewart's teaching. Miss Adah L. Brazelton had supervision of the musical numbers and the songs which lent much for the success of the play.

MANUEL WEINSTOCK

DIES OF BLADDER TROUBLE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Former Business Man of Louisville Comes to Paducah But Finds of Relief.

Paducah did not afford the relief Mr. Manuel Weinstock, of Centralia, Ill., expected, for he died last night at 10:40 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Michael, Fourth and Ohio streets, from bladder trouble, after having been here only a week. Mr. Weinstock was 60 years old and was born in Philadelphia. When young, he moved with his parents to Louisville, where he was in business for many years until 1903, when he went to Centralia, Ill. He is survived by four sons and two daughters, Messrs. Alexander, William and Samuel Weinstock, of Louisville, and Charles Weinstock, of Centralia, and Mrs. Benjamin Michael and Mrs. Jennie Weinstock, of Paducah. Two brothers, Messrs. Harmon and Abe Weinstock, also survive him. The body will be taken to Louisville for burial. Mr. Weinstock had many friends in Paducah and other cities where he has lived.

SKIN DISEASES CAUSED BY HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

The skin is provided with countless pores and glands, through which an evaporation is going on continually, day and night. This is nature's method of regulating the temperature of our bodies, and preserving the natural appearance of the skin. These pores and glands are connected with tiny veins and arteries through which they receive, from the blood, the necessary nourishment and strength to preserve their healthy condition, and enable them to perform this duty.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruption or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are lost. Its acid, humor-laden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres of the pores and glands, and the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

These humors get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the body fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood. There are also certain other humors which get into the blood from without. The juice or milk from poisonous plants, such as poison oak, poison ivy, nettle rash, etc., enters through the open pores of the skin and takes root in the blood. This causes a breaking out which remains for a time and then disappears, but returns at certain seasons of each year.

The cause of all skin troubles can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come through a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay the itching, and tend to reduce inflammation; they cannot correct the trouble because they do not reach the blood.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind, because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all eruptions and diseases of the skin. When S. S. S. has driven the humor from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

Three More Prizes

One month from this evening and it will all be over—what are you going to do in those thirty days? Hustle and win, or plod along and bring up in the rear. Will you on the eventful evening of the 4th be one of the fortunate prize winners, one of the lucky fifteen—no, one of the lucky eighteen, because we are going to add three more excellent prizes to the already long list of valuable gifts. Watch tomorrow's paper for the announcement of these additional prizes, ranging in value from $50 to $100, three prizes any one of which you may have been wanting for some time past; three that mean much to the winners not only for the present but for years to come; three that will give the winners an opportunity to acquire assets that will be valuable to them all through life.

Aim High and Win.

A candidate called up last evening and asked to be dropped from the contest. This candidate was only a couple of thousand votes behind the district leader; one yearly subscription would have put the candidates in the lead. Discouraged because one or two others were a few votes ahead; the one had turned in a subscription and the other hadn't; one had worked, the other had not loafed. There are just two qualifications of candidates in this contest, one is sticktoitiveness, the other discouragement; the first is going to win, the second is going to lose, in this or any other contest. Stick to it for four weeks, put in every good lick you can and you won't be discouraged.

Are you watching the list? Do you know the standing of each candidate in your district? Has any one forged ahead of you since the last count? Some of the candidates are voting the limit this week. Several turned in enough votes yesterday to put them a bit ahead. Are you one of them? Only three have passed the 20,000 mark but there are others that are running a close race.

Who's Who in the Contest.

Miss Elsie Hodge still leads with 23,020 votes, while Miss Ella Hill holds second place with 22,447, but the third place has changed hands. Miss Carrie Chiles, of Metropolis, polled a large number of votes yesterday and passed A. C. Hargrove, Paducah R. F. D., and now ranks third with 20,240, less than 3,000 votes behind the leader. Then there are six others in the neighborhood of 18,000, a score who have over 10,000 votes.

Several new candidates have entered the field and from the votes they are turning in, have entered to win. Notably among these is Miss Ruby Flack, of Mayfield, who entered under District No. 3 on Wednesday and now stands seventh in a list of over thirty in her district. Miss Plack is one of Mayfield's most charming and popular young ladies and in a contest held there last year won the first prize by a large margin of 23,237 votes.

Other out of town candidates who are doing good work are Miss Carrie Chiles of Metropolis, Miss Lara Street of Kevil, Miss Vera Dodson of LaCenter, Arthur Switzer and J. H. Dugger, of Paducah R. F. D. In districts No 1 and No 2 within the city, Miss Hodge and Miss Hill for the first district, and Miss Nichols, Miss Vaughn and Mr. Stewman for the second, are leading. They are closely followed in their respective districts by Miss Noble, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Ashby, Mr. Ratcliffe and Mr. Desberger. And there are many others that can go to the top of the list by polling the votes that would come from one yearly subscription.

The Race is Young.

The race is young and not won by any means. Many think they can pick the winner but there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip and like any race, there's many a quarter horse that's not good for a mile and many a mile horse that makes no showing until the last quarter. A spurt now and a spurt then loses many a race while a good steady runner stays with the bunch and wins, if only by a nose. Over ninety entries for this big race and grand prizes for the first seventeen to cross under the wire on the eventful 4th, as well as prizes at every quarter post at the end of each week. Prizes for over twenty per cent of the contestants—a big stake for one short race.

Just a little time and just a little work. Prizes for hustlers but none for those who shirk. Eighteen dandy prizes for candidates who try. And as many smiling faces on the 4th of July.

The Paducah Sun's Great Popularity Contest began with the official announcement on May 23, and will close on the great national holiday, July 4. That makes exactly six weeks. There will be no extension of the time of the contest. When it's over it's over, and the happy, lucky ones will be lagging home deeds for real estate, orders for fine furniture, rare jewels and a bunch of other things.

Who Are Eligible?

Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.

TAFT DISTRESSED

BECAUSE OF ATTACK ON HIS MEMORIAL DAY SPEECH.

Attempt to Make Political Capital of His Remarks By His Opponents.

Washington, June 4.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, when apprised that comment had been made by his reference in his Memorial day address in New York to Gen. Grant's resignation from the army before the Civil war, made the following statement:

"I am very much distressed that anything I have said should be construed to be an attack on Gen. Grant's memory. I yield to no man in my admiration for Gen. Grant, in my high estimate of the remarkable qualities and character and of the great debt that the nation owes him. In my memorial address I attributed his resignation from the army in 1854 to his weakness for strong drink, because from Mr. Garland's life of Gen. Grant and the evidence that he cites, and from other histories, I supposed and was undoubtedly true. I referred to the matter only because it seemed to me that it was one of the greatest victories of his life that he subsequently overcame this weakness.

"The wonder of his life was that with all the discouragements that he encountered before the Civil war, including this, he became the nation's chief instrument in suppressing the rebellion. I venture to say that no impartial man can read my memorial day address and say I do not give to Gen. Grant a place in history as high as that given him by any of his historians or his admirers.

"The lives of our great men belong to the country. If facts are told, showing that they had weaknesses which they overcame, the force of their successful example is greater to lift the youth of the country up to emulate them than if they are painted as perfect without temptation and without weaknesses."

QUEEN SEES AEROPLANE FALL.

Italian Dowager Present When Delagrange Airship is Broken.

Rome, June 3.—The experiment of Leon Delagrange, the French aviator, before the Queen Dowager here, came to nothing, through a mishap to the machine. M. Delagrange started magnificently and began to fly rapidly and smoothly, but after going about 800 yards the aeroplane suddenly fell to the ground from a height of six feet. The accident was caused by something going wrong with the motor, and the fall injured the machine so that it was impossible to continue the experiment.
